Grand Rounds
COVID-19 Science versus Fiction:
Implications for Health and Wellbeing of Diverse Communities

Leon McDougle, M.D., M.P.H.
121st President, National Medical Association
Professor of Family Medicine,
Chief Diversity Officer
Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center
Thursday, October 22, 2020, 12:00 -1:00 PM
Join Zoom Meeting: https://mlkch.zoom.us/j/93108251086
Session Meeting ID: 931 0825 1086

Dr. Leon McDougle is the first African American Professor with tenure in The Ohio State University Department of Family Medicine and he is the first Chief Diversity Officer ‘Aka Chief Collaborating Officer’ for the OSU Wexner Medical Center. A graduate of the University of Toledo and OSU College of Medicine, he completed the family medicine residency at the Naval Hospital Camp Pendleton, California, and earned a Master of Public Health degree from the University of Michigan School of Public Health, Department of Health Management and Policy. As a family physician Dr. McDougle has served a mostly older population on the Near Eastside of Columbus since 2001. Dr McDougle has been recognized nationally for clinical excellence as being among the Top 10% of healthcare providers for patient satisfaction and among the Best Doctors in America. Dr McDougle was installed as the 121st President of the National Medical Association August 3, 2020 during virtual annual convention and scientific assembly. Dr McDougle was elected to serve as the Association of American Medical Colleges Group on Diversity and Inclusion national Chair (2013-2015). Dr McDougle is a Diplomate of the American Board of Family Medicine and Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians. He was elected to membership within the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society, faculty. He is a member of the Rhema Christian Center and the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States. A native of Sandusky, Ohio, Leon and his wife, Natasha Jones-McDougle, M.Ed. are the proud parents of Peri and Autumn.

Session Objectives
2. Describe the importance of transparency in conducting clinical trials to develop vaccines and therapeutics for COVID-19.
3. Describe the role of Health Professional Organizations in service to diverse communities during the COVID-19 Pandemic.

Overall Objectives
1. Summarize up-to-date practice guidelines and the latest advances in research.
2. Discuss the impact of social determinants of health on clinical outcomes.
3. Identify areas of improvement in current practice to effectively address community health needs.
4. Explain how to incorporate best practice, evidence-based guidelines and approaches in order to provide high-quality, collaborative patient care.

Continuing Medical Education:
This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of Charles R. Drew University of Medicine and Science and the Martin Luther King, Jr. Community Hospital. Charles R. Drew University is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation:
Charles R. Drew University designates this live activity for a maximum of 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

For information about the accreditation of this program, please contact Charles R. Drew University at (323) 563-4980.